My Journey Through Love

It all starts with love
All wrapped up warm in their arms
Constant smiles and joy

But as we aged older
We learn of hatred and pain
Love itself seems rare

We will dream of love
Through romantic comedies
Laughing and crying

We will always try
Only to be heartbroken
And the days darken

All until that day
They come unexpectedly
Light through clouds of grey

Butterfly stomachs
Leaving your heart fluttering
And shortness of breath

Love rediscovered
As they're always by your side
Unconditionally

Once only a dream
That all seemed impossible
Now binded by truth

And his name is Ren
Attached to my heart and soul
For I am in love
